

PAVING THE WAY

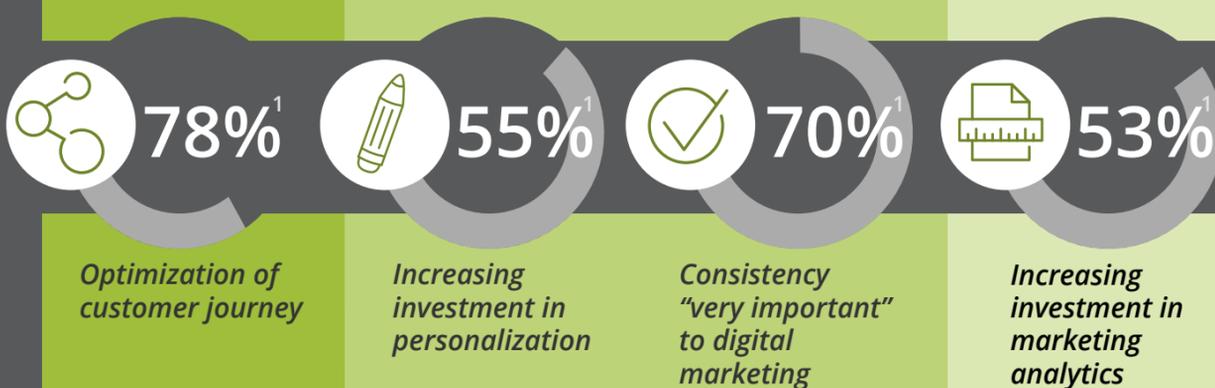

for Sales Success in the Financial Services Industry

Do strict rules and ever-changing regulations have you struggling to create impactful, up-to-the-minute content and distribute it in a purposeful way? Are you finding it difficult to differentiate yourself in an over-saturated market?

Using digital best practices to align sales, marketing, and compliance can help you prioritize the client experience and set yourself apart from your competition.

FSI MARKETERS PRIMARY FOCUS AREAS:

PREDICTIVE ANALYTICS

Predictive Analytics use data mining, algorithms, and machine learning to analyze existing data, recognize patterns, and make predictions about future events or actions.

- 1) Identify your target audience
- 2) Gather meaningful data from profiles, history and behavior
- 3) Make behavioral predictions based on existing data and patterns
- 4) Drive revenue by focusing your agents and advisors on the highest quality leads

CONTENT AUTOMATION & PERSONALIZATION

Ensure content can be updated and customized quickly and accurately and made easily accessible to your salesforce on-demand.

- 1) Create a centralized content repository that links back to your data feed
- 2) Use dynamic content to give agents and advisors the flexibility they need to personalize information within the parameters of compliance
- 3) Provide a consistent and engaging client experience by ensuring brand consistency, customer-centricity and greatly reduced risk throughout the sales process

SALES ENGAGEMENT

Give agents and advisors the ability to quickly and easily access all compliant content (e.g. presentations, videos, interactive tools, etc.) to enable organic and meaningful client interactions.

Clients more likely to buy if the sales rep pivots to focus on their agenda

- 1) Integrate your sales enablement platform and CRM to increase efficiency, measure effectiveness, and optimize content accordingly
- 2) Capture and act on real-time input from buyers, easily pivoting discussions to address relevant topics and enhance the quality of sales interactions
- 3) Measure and understand what content drives revenue so marketing can focus future efforts on whatever adds the most value from a sales perspective
